DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Niehoff (US 5,139,198) in view of Schaffan (US 4,260,104).

Niehoff discloses a track assembly similar to that recited in the instant claims, including supporting plate 20 having multiple holes for receiving contacts 48 extending there through, two tracks 24 mounted on the supporting plate, and connecting plate fixture 42 provided with first and second connecting plates 50.

Regarding the instant claimed tracks being slidably mounted, as recited in instant claim 1, the instant claimed multiple pairs of retainers, as recited in instant claim 2, and the T-shaped tracks recited in instant claim 3, consider the known mounting structure, shown in the prior art Figure 5 of Schaffan, wherein, there are a plurality of retainers 30a that are loosely holding T-shape tracks 28 in a manner that allows sliding movements of the tracks. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute tracks and track mounting structures, similar to that of the prior art Figure 5 of Schaffan, for that of Niehoff so as to provide greater flexibilities in track layout designs.

Art Unit: 3617

3. Claims 4-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
